Public Comment Opens on Critical Intersection Designs

MONROE, N.C. (March 9, 2021) – Union County is requesting public comments on proposed designs for five priority intersections throughout the County. The intersections were identified in 2019 as part of a Critical Intersection Analysis to help guide investments of limited County, municipal, and NCDOT resources.

The next step is selecting a preferred design and refining cost estimates to help municipalities, Union County, and the NCDOT determine the preferred solution to address safety and congestion issues at these five intersections:

- Waxhaw-Marvin and Bonds Grove Church Roads in Marvin
- NC 200 and Plyler Mill Road in unincorporated Union County
- NC 75 and Potter Road in Mineral Springs
- US 601 and Brief Road in Fairview
- Poplin and Unionville-Indian Trail Roads in Monroe

The Planning department will host a virtual community input meeting for each of the five intersections. The schedule for the virtual meetings is online. Residents may also review the proposed designs and provide feedback online. The County is receiving public input through April 2, 2021.

The Board of Commissioners and governing bodies in affected municipalities will be asked to endorse a design for each intersection in May 2021. Public feedback will help them make these important decisions.
