Question / Answer Section

1. Question:

Are the five categories requested in the RFQ (Land Surveying, Geotechnical Engineering, Environmental Engineering, Construction Materials Testing & Special Inspections, and Property Acquisition) applied strictly to Water and Wastewater System Improvements projects for the County?

Answer:

Yes, the scope of the RFQ is specific to the water/wastewater master plan and CIP, then these services would be limited to water/wastewater projects.

2. Question:

Does the County anticipate to select multiple firms for each of the 5 categories?

Answer:

No determination has been made on the number of firms to select for each category.

3. Question:

Per the RFQ page 9, a minimum of five (5) representative projects are requested. If we are submitting on multiple services (i.e., Geotechnical, Environmental, CMT/SI) would the County like to review 5 projects per category or would five (5) representing a combination of these services be accepted.

Answer:

Provide 5 projects per category, clearly identifying which category the projects are for. The same project may be used for multiple categories.

4. Question:

To confirm, firms are not required to submit on all categories? For example, we could select 3 of the 5 categories advertised.

Answer:

Correct.

5. Question:

Can we use subs to fulfill all the requirements in an individual category? Or does the county prefer the prime firm offer all services noted in the RFQ under an individual category?

Answer:

Qualifications should only be for prime consultants.
